

DO THIS FIRST—YOU!

Your know, and every physician knows, that when any sickness has passed, whether it be throat trouble, organic disturbances, contagious diseases, or even a severe cold, a relapse is feared, because sickness robs the system of Nature's resistance and leaves it subject to lingering germs.

Drugs never build up a worn-out body—only food can do that, and the first thing to take after any sickness is the concentrated, blood-making oil food in Scott's Emulsion, which feeds the tissues, benefits the blood and strengthens both lungs and throat.

Physicians prescribe Scott's Emulsion after sickness. Nurses everywhere advocate it. Scott's is pure medicinal food, without alcohol or drugs.

MAN TRAVELING
NAME KILLS SELF

my stateroom to get my toothbrush, and in the half-light of dawn I saw Edwards, apparently kneeling on the settee below the porthole, his head thrown back as if gazing up toward the porthole. I spoke to him but he did not answer. When I touched him I noticed the necktie around his neck, suspended from the brass porthole key ring.

Miller said Edwards had been very depressed ever since the boat left San Francisco and that yesterday was the first time he had gone on deck. "He told me last night he was 38 years old and that he would be 39 today, and previously he said he was worrying over various troubles," added Miller, who got off here. Edwards was booked through to Sydney.

The suicide left a letter addressed to his brother, Capt. Raymond Sheldon, 1824 Republic building, Chicago. With the letter, which was unsealed, was a brief note saying "Please forward this to my dear brother."

The latest army directory gives the name of Capt. Sheldon as connected with the 18th Infantry, room 1824 Republic building, State and Adams streets, Chicago. Army headquarters here said this morning that there is an army recruiting station at 500 State street, Chicago, and that it is possible Capt. Sheldon may be in charge, or that he may be on militia duty and has his offices in the Republic building.

Edwards' letter contains references to personal and financial troubles and mentions that his children "will be left without a father's love and care." It adds the phrase "I am going to re-establish my name and fortune."

The letter was taken in charge by Cmdr. J. H. Dawson of the Ventura, and Supt. James W. Robertson of the shipping department of C. Brewer & Company, Oceanic agents. "We sealed and mailed the letter this morning," said Captain Dawson. "We will not make it public."

That "Edwards" is not the suicide's real name was surmised by officers of the Ventura, who are of the opinion that he was traveling under an assumed name, possibly a fugitive from justice. A letter from the man's wife, addressed to him as "E. P. Edwards," the name he booked under, advised him to "begin anew, and lead a new life."

Edwards' personal effects included $24.10 in cash, his belongings, including shirts, collars, traveling bag and other effects, are all new, and were apparently purchased in San Francisco before he sailed.

J. W. Robertson of C. Brewer & Company sent a cablegram to Capt. Sheldon informing him of his brother's self-destruction, and asking for instructions concerning disposal of the body, which was brought ashore this morning and removed to the morgue in the board of health offices.

The letter left by Edwards had with it a note requesting that it be mailed to his brother in Chicago. The letter was dated "Monday A. M." Blames Mental Condition.

"Dear Boade: I have been under the weather ever since coming on board, and have hardly left my stateroom. Presume the Pacific swell has something to do with it, tho' I never was much troubled with seasickness before, and am inclined to think my mental condition must have something to do with it."

"While in 'Frisco I was simply 'non est'—unable to either write or think. My love is so great that its ingratitude appeals me, and the terrific strain that I have been under for so long has sapped what gray matter I may once have possessed. It is all very, very sad, and, with you, I am doubtful of the outcome. But one can only hope for the best and as far as I can I will make every effort to rehabilitate my name and fortune."

"Enemies are so numerous and friends so scarce, old boy, that your love stands out supremely wonderful in its unselfishness and self-sacrifice. Should anything happen to me, please give my very, very dearest love to little. Tell her she has been with me so much these distressing days. And keep an eye on Edna and the children—blessed little hearts, altho' I am sure that no harm comes to them, as far as you can prevent. They need a father's love, and must get along without it, poor dears."

"Again, my love, old boy, and may God bless and take care of you all. What you have done for me (and God knows, I understand) has been very great. If I never see you in this world again, may God grant we will meet in the next."

"With a heart full of love and thanks. HERB."

"Monday A. M."

Refers to Creditors.

A letter to the dead man from Chicago, signed "Girle," appears to be from his wife. It is mostly devoted to sending him good wishes and minor news. One sentence says:

"In the last two years I have had a good deal of trouble with your creditors, but have managed to keep things quiet by paying a little now and then."

The writer says she is teaching school, and that she hopes "you will succeed and are feeling better."

A wireless message from "Boade," who is evidently Captain Sheldon of Chicago, the dead man's brother, was received by Edwards on board the Ventura. The last lines of it read:

"Best wishes and love. Hope you will make a success of it all. It is a great and new opportunity. Take care of yourself."

Letters from Orange, N. J., are from the dead man's little daughter. One of them states that she is "nearly thirteen," and it is filled with endearing terms. The letter mentions having heard from her father from San Bernardino and Ontario, California.

Capt. McDuffie Makes Investigation.
Upon learning this morning of the suicide and the suspicion that Edwards was a fugitive from justice, Capt. of Detectives McDuffie immediately went to the Ventura and made an investigation. He looked over letters to the suicide, found in his pockets; also a letter from the man to his supposed brother, Capt. Sheldon.

One of the letters was from his wife. She referred apparently to some trouble and counseled him to bear up and to start life anew. The letters also referred to children and it is believed the pair have two or more children. Her letter was addressed to "H. P. Edwards" and was signed simply "Girle."

In the letter addressed to Capt. Sheldon the man told of being oppressed by his trouble.

"I should doubt if the man was in good circumstances," said McDuffie, "or had much money from the fact that while all his clothes were new, he had on the steamer nothing but the suitcase with him and his suit was of rather cheap quality."

Capt. McDuffie also talked with the suicide's room-mate, who repeated his story of seeing the man at the porthole with his head close to the frame, and thinking in the half-light of early morning that he was standing there looking out.

The necktie with which he had hung himself was fastened to the hook of the porthole.

No new facts regarding Edwards were brought out at the inquest this afternoon, most of the testimony dealing with the finding of the body. The inquest was continued until tomorrow at 1 o'clock, so that W. Miller, who occupied the cabin with Edwards, can be summoned before the jury.

ARRIVALS FROM MAINLAND TODAY

Rt. Rev. Libert H. Boeynaems, Catholic bishop of Zeugma, returned to Honolulu this morning on the Ventura. He was accompanied by two Catholic nuns, Sister Louise and Reverend Mother Margaret. Bishop Boeynaems has been away for several months.

W. F. Gaynor, who was one of the representatives from this city at the insurance congress in San Francisco last summer, arrived home on the Ventura this morning. Zeno K. Myers and Col. McCarthy, other Honolulu insurance men, also represented this city at the congress.

Dr. D. H. Currie, successor to Dr. G. W. McCoy as director of the United States leprosy investigation station at Puhale, Kailhi, and at Molokai, arrived today on the Oceanic steamer Ventura. Mrs. Currie accompanied him. Dr. Currie was here four years ago in the same work.

REV. LELAND H. TRACY PLACED IN CHARGE OF
CHURCH OF EPIPHANY

As predicted in the Star-Bulletin a few weeks ago, Rev. Leland H. Tracy has been appointed by Bishop Henry Bond Restarick to take charge of the church of the Epiphany in Kaimuki. During the coming week, Rev. and Mrs. Tracy will take up their residence in the Kaimuki district, the church corporation having purchased a house and lot near the mission. Mr. Tracy, who is a graduate of the University of California, was in charge of important work at St. Mary's church at Guadalajara, Mexico, when the revolution broke out in the southern country. He remained there until ordered to leave.

Count De La Fargue resigned as Bulgarian consul at Paris because he objected to Bulgaria's war policy. The longest time on record for which a swimmer has remained under water is 6 minutes 29 4-5 seconds.

FARMER'S WIFE
TOO ILL TO WORK

A Weak, Nervous Sufferer
Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Kasota, Minn. — "I am glad to say that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done more for me than anything else, and I had the best physician here. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I feel like a different person. I believe there is nothing like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weak women and young girls, and I would be glad if I could influence anyone to try the medicine, for I know it will do all and much more than it is claimed to do." — Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D. No. 1, Maplecrest Farm, Kasota, Minn.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should be convinced of the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health by the many genuine and truthful testimonials we are constantly publishing in the newspapers.

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.
